PUBLISHER'S NOTE.

A Dictionary of Jaina Technical Terms was the most pressing need of the time for an understanding of the Jaina Literature which we have undertaken to publish. Justice J. L. Jaini, our esteemed patron, has removed this long-felt want by kindly placing in our hands the present work, which, we feel sure, will answer the desire object.

Thanks to a fund recently handed to us for this purpose by the generosity of a donor, we are now able to produce it at a price which will place it within the reach of all students of Jainism and we feel sure it will be found most useful and handy book of reference and will help to satisfy a longfelt need in the Literature of Jainism.

INTRODUCTION.

The idea of this little work suggested itself to me thus : My friend, Jaina Dharma Bhusana Brahmachari Sital Prasadji, passed his rainy season of 1915 with me at Indore. We were translating Tattvarthasutra, Panchastikaya, Samayasara, &c. Everyone, who has had to translate an old technical oriental work into English, knows how difficult it is to find satisfactory equivalents of the words of one language in the other. Sometimes the task is impossible. Some ideas or view-points are entirely alien to the other language and consequently quite untranslatable into it. I have not been more, rather less, fortunate than other workers in the same field. It is not without a profound sense of the tentative character of this little Dictionary that I put it before the public. At first it was prepared merely as a glossary to the English translation of Tattvarthasutra. But as words from Panchastikaya and Samayasara were added to it, it was decided to drop the idea of a glossary and to publish it as a small separate work. For this purpose, the late Syadvada Varidhi Vadi Gaja Kesari Pandit Gopal Dasji Baraiya's Jaina Siddhanta Pravesika was taken up and almost all the words given in it were translated into the Dictionary. It is important to observe that ordinary words, which can be found in the current Sanskrit-English dictionaries, are kept out of this book.

JAINA GEM DICTIONARY.

Abâdhita (अबाधित)—Irrefutable by any other mode of proof or argument. As 'that fire is cold,' is refutable by obvious observation; therefore coldness cannot be the सत्य or inference from fire, i.e., it is not अबाधित.

The conclusion must be sound and free from fallacy.

Âbhâsa (आभास)—Fallacy.

Abhâsâtmaka (अभाषात्मक)—Not uttered by the mouth.

Abhâva (अभाव)—

(1) The non-existence of one substance or thing in another. This is merely a corollary from the famous first Law of Thought. All A is A; i.e., no A is non-A; i.e., A never exists in non-A.

(2) Non-existence of a past condition.

(3) Privation.

(4) One of the seven Vaiṣeṣika categories. It is a Padârtha, the knowledge of which is dependent on its contradictory.

Abhâvabhâva (अभावभाव)—The beginning to transform the future into the present condition.

Thus the Dictionary contains almost all, and only the most important, Jaina technical terms. Its utility, I reckon, is considerable. Just now there is a movement in several directions to translate old Jaina texts into English. So far as India is considered, the movement started in 1904-5, when the Jaina Gazette began to publish the English translation of Atmanusasana. Then followed the Purusartha Siddhyupaya by my friend, B. Rickhab Dass, B.A., vakil of Meerut, in the same monthly. My friend, Kumar Devendra Prasadji of Arrah, has started a series of Sacred Books of the Jainas. Its first volume, Dravya Samgraha, by Prof. Sarat Chandra Ghoshal, M.A., B.L., Saraswati, Kavya Tirtha, Vidyabhusana, Bharati is ready. It struck us forcibly that all these different translations might employ different English equivalents for the same Jaina word. This destroys uniformity and causes confusion in the mind of a non-Jaina reader of the works. Therefore it was thought best to put together the most important Jaina technical terms and to try to attempt to give fixity to the meaning in which Jaina philosophy employes them. Of course, it is idle to claim finality in an undertaking of this kind. But so long as a better collection does not replace it, it is hoped that the present work removes a real want and must be most useful to students of Jainism and Jaina Literature. I am thankful to my friends, Babus Hemchandra Sogani, B.Sc., and Sikhar Chandra Jaina, for alphabetical arrangement of the words.

J. L. JAINI.

Adarsāna (अदर्शन)—Slack faith.

Adatta (अदत्त)—Not given.

Addhâ Palya (अद्धापल्य)—Equal to innumerable Uddhâra Palyas (q.v.)

Âdeśa (आदेश)—(From) the standpoint of speech.

Âdeya (आदेय)—Dignified and prepossessing appearance.

Adhah karaṇa (अधः करण)—It is the totality of thought-activity of the soul when it is on the point of rising from the 7th to the 8th spiritual stage. It may gain greater purity and radiance than is gained by souls which have been on the point of rising an instant or two before it; or, it may be left behind in point of purity and radiance by souls which have come to the point of rising from the 7th to the 8th stage, after it. This is called the अधः करण (adhah karaṇa), thought-activity.

But where the souls have pure and radiant new thought-activity in the order in which they rise from the 7th to the 8th stage, although they begin at some intermediate point simultaneously, they may rise together or slightly more or less quickly, so far as purity and radiance are considered. But those, whose entrance into the 8th stage was successive, never have the same purity and radiance at one and the same time. This is called अपूर्व करण (apūrva karaṇa), the 8th spiritual stage (q.v.)

In the 9th stage, the souls which enter it at the same instant rise equally in purity and radiance; but those Abhavya (अभव्य)—Incapable of being liberated.

Abhavyatva (अभव्यत्व)—Incapacity of becoming liberated.

Abhīkṣajñānopayōga (अभीक्ष्णज्ञानोपयोग)—Ceaseless pursuit of right knowledge.

Âgama (आगम)—Trustworthy affirmation. It is a technical term for the Jaina scriptures.

Âgamabâdhita (आगमबाधित)—A premiss from which the conclusion drawn is refutable by scriptural knowledge. As, sin leads to happiness. The Scriptures tell us that it leads to misery.

Âgama bhâva nikṣepa (आगमभावनिक्षेप)—Calling a soul a knower of something when it is actually attentive to it.

Âgama dravya nikṣepa (आगम द्रव्यनिक्षेप)—Calling a soul a knower of something to which it is not attentive, although it knows it.

Âgamapramâṇa (आगमप्रमाण)—Knowledge of things derived from authoritative books, Aghâtiya (अघातिय)—Non-destructive (Karma); which does not destroy the essential qualities of the souls.

Agnikumâra (अग्निकुमार)—The 5th class of Residential order of celestial beings.

Agrâyani pûrva (अग्रायणी पूर्व)—The second Pûrva of scriptures.

who come after can never equal their predecessors in purity and radiance. This is the 9th or the anivṛttikaraṇa stage.

It is by these three ascending stages of pure and enlightened thought-activity that the 21 sub-classes of right-conduct-deluding Karmas are destroyed or made to subside.

This threefold precedence of spirituality occurs also when the 7 or 5 sub-classes (3 or 1 of right-belief-deluding Karmas, and four error-feeding passions) of Karmas subside or are destroyed in the soul's attaining subsidential or purified right belief in the 4th to the 7th spiritual stage.

Adharma (अधर्म)—A substance which is the medium of rest to soul and matter. Fulcrum of rest. But it is not matter, although it is not conscious. It is one of the six dravyas of Jainism.

Adhigama (अधिगम)—Knowledge derived from external sources, e.g., precept.

Adhikaraṇa (अधिकरण)—Place; relation; topic, subject.

Adhikaraniki (अधिकरानिकि)—Having hurtful weapons.

Adhōlōka (अधोलोक)—The nether world. This is 7 rājās deep, under the mount Meru.

Adhruva (अध्रुव)—Transient; as perception of a flash of lightning.

Adhyavasāya (अध्यवसाय)—Impure (from the point

Agurulaghu (अगुरुलघु)—

(1) Individuality; the quality by which a substance or attribute does not become another, and by which none of the attributes of a substance can ever fall off from it.

(2) Absence of family-determining Karma.

(3) Neither too heavy nor too light.

(4) Increase and decrease in various ways in the modifications of all substances. It is a common feature of all dravyas, and this natural feature is to be found in the mass, and also in an atom.

Ahamindra (अहमिन्द्र)—(Lit., I am Indra.) The Kal-pâtita heavenly beings are so called, because they are all alike as Indras.

Âhanika (आह्निक)—Part of a chapter.

Âhâra (आहार)—Assimilation of âhâra vargaṇâ, or molecules of matter which form the external body.

Âhâraka (आहारक)—Spiritual manlike emanation from the head of a Saint. It is also the name of the body possessed by one who has studied 14 Pûrvas. The saint with such a body goes to resolve some of his doubts to a Tirthaṅkara.

Âhâraka miśra (आहारकमिश्र)—Âhâraka mixed with physical body.

Âhâravargaṇâ (आहारवर्गणा)—The material molecules which go to build up the physical, fluid and âhâraka bodies.

Dhyâna (ध्यान) —Concentration. Contemplation or meditation.

Digvirati (दिग्गिरति) —Taking a life-long vow to limit one's worldly activity to fixed points in all the ten directions.

Dikkumâra (दिक्कुमार) —The 10th class of Residential order of celestial beings.

Dravya (द्रव्य)—(1) Substance.

(2) Subject-matter.

(3) A category of Vaiśeṣika.

Dravyabandha (द्रव्यबंध)—The substance which binds the soul as karmic matter ; objective bondage.

Dravya bhâva (द्रव्य भाव)—Category of substance.

Dravya leśyâ (द्रव्य लेश्या)—Matter-paint ; the colour or tint of the body.

Dravya liṅga (द्रव्य लिंग)—Sex-organ.

Dravya mana (द्रव्य मन)—Material mind ; organ of mind.

Dravya mokṣa (द्रव्यमोक्ष)—Objective liberation.

Dravya nikṣepa (द्रव्य निक्षेप)—Privative aspect; giving a name, the qualities connoted by which were possessed in the past, or will be possessed in the future by the thing named, but are not possessed now.

Dravya nirjarâ (द्रव्य निर्जरा)—Objective shedding.

Dravyânuyoga (द्रव्यानुयोग)—That portion of Jaina literature which treats of Jaina metaphysics.

Dravya parivartana (द्रव्य परिवर्तन)—Matter-cycle of wanderings.

Dravyaprâṇa (द्रव्यप्राण)—Material vitalities, i.e., power of mind ; body ; speech ; five senses ; respiration ; and age.

Dravyârthika (द्रव्यार्थिक)—Relating to the substance.

Dravyârthikanaya (द्रव्यार्थिकनय)—Substantial standpoint.

Dravyasamvara (द्रव्यसंवर)—Karmic matter which is stopped from flowing into the soul; objective stoppage.

Dravyaśrava (द्रव्याश्रव)—The substance which inflows into the soul as karmic matter; objective inflow.

Dravyatva (द्रव्यत्व)—It is one of the general natures (Sāmānya svabhāva) of substances; it means the fact of all the dravyas performing their functions and modifications.

Dṛiṣṭānta (दृष्टान्त)—(1) 5th category of Nyāya school.

(2) One of the components in Parârthānumāna.

(3) The observations from which an induction is made; as the presence of smoke in kitchen with a fire and its absence in a tank where there is no fire. It is the illustrative part of उदाहरण (udāharaṇa.)

Dṛiṣṭipravāda aṅga (दृष्टिप्रवाद अंग)—The 12th Aṅga of the Scriptures.

Dveṣa (द्वेष)—Aversion; repulsion.

Dvīpakumāra (द्वीपकुमार)—The 9th class of Residential order of celestial beings.

Dvīpaprajñapti (द्वीपप्रज्ञप्ति)—The 4th Parikarma of the 12th Aṅga of the scriptures.

Dvītiyopasāma samyaktva (द्वितीयोपशम सम्यक्त्व)

—The second subsidential right belief. It arises in a saint in the 7th spiritual stage of Perfect vows when he is preparing to pass on to the 8th stage of new spiritual thought-activity along the lines of subsidential advancement; having been already a right believer of the destruction-subsidence kind, he transforms the nature of the 4 error-feeding passions into lesser passions and causes the subsidence of the three sub-classes of right-belief-deluding Karmas, namely, wrong belief, mixed right and wrong belief, and right belief slightly clouded by wrong belief.

Duḥhidam (दुःहिदं)—Distressed; unhappy; miserable.

Duḥkhamâ (दुःखमा)—The 5th age of the Avasarpinî =21,000 years, (it is the present age).

Duḥkhamâ duḥkhamâ (दुःखमा दुःखमा)—The sixth age of this Avasarpinî æon=21,000 years.

Duḥkhamâ sukhamâ (दुःखमा सुखमा)—The 4th age of the Avasarpinî, the present æon, which is=1 crore×1 crore Sagaras—42,000 years.

Duḥpramṛiṣṭa (दुःप्रमृष्ट)—Putting a thing down petulantly or peevishly.

Duḥprayukta (दुःप्रयुक्त)—Diabolical; devilish.

E

Ekânta mithyâdarsâna (एकान्त मिथ्यादर्शन)—
Wrong belief in which only one point of view is taken.

Ekatvapratyabhijñâna (एकत्वप्रत्यभिज्ञान)—Recognition of the same thing which was and is now also the subject-matter of the senses and the mind. As recognising John as the John whom I saw yesterday.

Ekatva vitarka vîchâra (एकत्व वितर्क वीचार)—Absorption in one aspect only of the self. The 2nd pure concentration.

Ekavidha (एकविध)—Perception of a thing of one kind only.

Evambhûta naya (एवं भूतनय)—Active standpoint; restricting a name to the very activity which is connoted by the name.

G

Gaṇa (गण)—Brothers of the same order of saints.

Gaṇadhara (गणधर)—Apostles having all the five kinds of knowledge, except perfect.

Gandharva (गंधर्व)—The 4th class of peripatetic order of celestial beings.

Garbhaja (गर्भज)—Of uterine birth.

Gardatoya (गर्दलोय)—The 5th class of Laukântika heavenly beings.

Gati (गति)—(1) Condition of existence.

(2) Vighrahgati; (q. v.);

(3) Moving from place to place.

(4) Touring.

Gatiparinâma (गतिपरिणाम)—Nature to go up.

Ghadi (घड़ी)—24 minutes=Nâli (q. v.)

Ghritavara (घृतवर)—Name of the 6th continent and ocean.

Ghana (घन)—Sounds from cymbals, etc.

Ghâtiya (घातिय)—Destructive ; karmas which destroy the essential nature of the soul,

Glâna (ग्लान)—Invalid saints.

Gotra karma (गोत्र कर्म)—Family-determining karmic matter.

Graha (ग्रह)—(1) The planets.

(2) The 3rd class of stellar order of celestial beings.

Grahaṇa (ग्रहण)=Avagraha (q. v.)

Graiveyaka (ग्रेवैयक)—The first nine abodes of Ahamendras.

Guṇa (गुण)—Attribute ; degree of attribute.

Guṇahâni (गुणहानि)—A geometrically decreasing series ; the number of the terms of a series, the sum of which is the number of molecules of a unit of Bondage, and each term in which is half of the term immediately preceding it. E.g., if the maximum number of molecules which the soul draws in to bind itself in one instant be 6300; and the duration of their bondage be 48 samayas and there be 6 guṇahānis or terms in the geometric series, then the number of the molecules shed in the 6 guṇahānis respectively will be 3200, 1600, 800, 400, 200 and 100.

Here in each guṇahāni there are $\frac{48}{6}=8$ samayas. This is called guṇahāni āyāma, i.e., the duration of one guṇahāni.

The whole series of 6 guṇahānis is called nānū-guṇahāni.

The number 2 raised to the power of the number of guṇahāni in the nānūguṇahāni is called Anyonyā bhyasta rāṣi. In the above example it is $=2^6=64$.

One samaya prabaddha or unit of Bondage divided by Anyonyā bhyasta rāṣi minus one, gives the number of molecules shed in the last or antima guṇahāni. Here $\frac{6300}{64-1}=\frac{6300}{63}=100$ is the last guṇahāni.

The double of the number of guṇahāni āyāma is Nisekahāra. Here it is $=8 \times 2=16$.

Chaya is the regular arithmetic difference between any consecutive two of the terms of the series which represents the karmic molecules shed in each successive samaya, of which each guṇahāni consists. In the above example in the guṇahāni of 8 samayas 3200 molecules are shed. In the first samaya more are shed than in the second, in the second more than in the third and so on. The number of molecules by which the shedding is less in every succeeding instant is called chaya. In the above example it is found as follows. We find the first term of the series and divide it by Niṣekahâra (here=16). The first term is found as follows:

$$\frac{\text{guṇahâni molecules} \times 4}{(3 \times \text{guṇahâni âyâmas}) + 1} \text{ Here the first term} = \frac{8200 \times 4}{(3 \times 8) + 1} = \frac{32800}{25} = 512. \therefore \text{Chaya} = \frac{\text{First term}}{\text{guṇahâni âyâma}} = \frac{512}{2 \times 8} = \frac{512}{16} = 32.$$

That is, in the 1st 8 samayas of the 1st guṇahâni the number of molecules shed will be respectively 512, 480, 448, 416, 384, 352, 320 and 288.

The chaya for each succeeding guṇahâni will be half of the one immediately preceding it. As the number of molecules in each guṇahâni is half of that of its immediate predecessor, its chaya is also half the chaya of its predecessor.

Sûkṣma kriyâpratipâti (सूक्ष्मक्रिया प्रतिपाति)—The 3rd Pure concentration, in which the deeply absorbed soul has fine vibrations.

Sûkṣma sâmparâya (सूक्ष्म सांपराय)—Slightest Delusion. Tenth spiritual stage, where all the passions are suppressed or destroyed except the slightest greed; right conduct all but free from passion.

Sûkṣma sthûla (सूक्ष्म स्थूल)—See Sûkṣma vâdara.

Sûkṣma sûkṣma (सूक्ष्म सूक्ष्म)—Fine-fine; very fine. Finer than karmic molecules till we reach the molecule of 2 atoms.

Sûkṣmatva (सूक्ष्मत्व)—Fineness, one of the 8 qualities of a Siddha, due to the absence of body-determining Karma.

Sûkṣma vâdara (सूक्ष्म वादर)—Fine-gross. Invisible to the eye, but apprehended by the other 4 senses; as air, sound, smell.

Suparṇa kumâra (सुपर्णकुमार)—The 4th class of residential order of celestial beings.

Sûrya (सूर्य)—Sun, the 1st class of the stellar order of celestial beings.

Sûrya prajñapti (सूर्य प्रज्ञप्ति)—The 2nd Parikarmâ, in the 12th Aṅga of the Scriptures.

Suṣira (सुषिर)—Sounds from flute, etc.

Sûtra (सूत्र)—A division of the 12th Aṅga of the Scriptures. Sentence or Vākya, Yoga, Lakṣaṇa = sentence.

Sûtrakṛitâṅga (सूत्रकृतांग)—The 2nd Aṅga of the Scriptures.

Svabhâva (स्वभाव)—Argument in which the middle term gives the property of the major term.

Svabhâva-artha-paryâya (स्वभाव अर्थ पर्याय)—Self-non-spatial modification. Modification in any attribute of a substance, except spatiality, such as is caused by the substance itself; as, in the pure knowing attribute of the soul.

Svabhâva mârḍava (स्वभाव मार्दव)—Naturally humble disposition.

Svabhâvanīyata (स्वभावनियत)—Steadfast in its own nature.

Svabhâva-vyañjana-paryâya (स्वभाव व्यञ्जन पर्याय)—Self-modification of spatiality as, in the liberated condition of the soul.

Svâdhyâya (स्वाध्याय)—Study of the Scriptures.

Svaka charitra bhraṣṭa (स्वक चरित्र भ्रष्ट)—

Having fallen from self-conduct (i.e., from the path which leads to self-realization).

Svakam samayam (स्वकं समयं)—Self-absorption.

Svâmitva (स्वामित्व)—Possession ; Inherence.

Svara (स्वर)—Sound. The gamut consists of seven tones, Ṣaḍja, Riṣabha, Gândhâra, Madhyama, Panchama, Dhaivata, Niṣâdha, which are represented in English by the Tones. Do. Re. Me. Fa. Sol. La. Si.

Svârthânnumâna (स्वार्थानुमान)—The inference itself.

Svarûpâcharaṇa châritra (स्वरूपाचरण चारित्र)—

The conduct in self-absorption and never separable from it. This is produced by the subsidence or destruction of the four error-feeding passions.

Svarûpâ siddha (स्वरूपा सिद्ध)—Unproveable on the face of it.

Svarûpa viparyâsa (स्वरूप विपर्यास)—Mistake in the nature or character of a thing.

Śvâsochchhivâsa-kâla (श्वासोच्छ्वासकाल)—Śvâsochchhivâsa is the time taken by the pulse of a healthy man to beat once. There are 3773 pulse-beats in one muhûrta or 48 minutes. Thus in one minute the pulse-beats of a healthy man are $78 \frac{28}{48}$. According to modern science, the frequency of pulse-beats of a normal healthy person is from 70 to 75 per minute—an almost exact anticipation of modern physiological research by ancient Jaina writers.

In गोमटसार जीवकांड—Gommaṭasāra Jīva Kāṇḍa gāthās, 573-574, the frequency is calculated as follows:—

7 उच्छ्वास (uchchhvasa or pulse-beats=1 स्तोत्रstoka.)

7 Stokas=1 (लव) (lava.)

$38\frac{1}{2}$ lavas=1 (नाली) (nāli.)

2 nālis=1 (मुहूर्त) (muhūrta.)

Thus the number of pulse-beats in one muhūrta = $2 \times 38\frac{1}{2} \times 7 \times 7 = 77 \times 7 \times 7 = 539 \times 7 = 3773$. In one muhūrta, there are 48 minutes, therefore the frequency of pulse-beats per minute, according to Jainism, is $\frac{3773}{48} = 78\frac{31}{48}$.

In पद्मपुर (Śaṭ pādmapuṭa), the chapter on भावपद्म, (bhāva pādmapuṭa), gāthās, 28-29 an antar muhūrta is calculated as follows:—Labdhiya paryāpta (q.v.) Souls die 18 times in one pulse-beat. In one antar muhūrta they die 66336 times; ∴ 1 antar muhūrta = $\frac{66336}{18}$ pulse-beats. As there are $\frac{3773}{48}$ pulse-beats in one minute, therefore the number of minutes in one antarmuhūrta is $$\frac{66336}{\frac{18}{48}} = \frac{66336 \times 48}{18 \times 3773} = 46 \text{ minutes } 53 \frac{311}{3773} \text{ seconds. But}$$ this antarmuhūrta is madhyama or middle.

The utkṛiṣṭa or maximum antarmuhūrta is 48 minutes minus one samaya (q.v.) = 48 minutes practically.

The jaghlanya or minimum antar muhūrta is 1 samaya + 1 āvali (q.v.) [see Gommaṭasāra Jīva Kāṇḍa gāthās, 574 (1) p. 120 of Edition 1911, Bombay].

Svasthâna-apramattā-virata (स्वस्थान अप्रमत्त विरत)—It is the stage of perfect vows, from which the soul repeatedly falls down to the 6th, re-ascends to the 7th and falls down again to the 6th and so on for thousands of times.

Svâti samsthâna (स्वाति संस्थान)—A small head with a big body.

Svavachanabâdhita (स्ववचनबाधित)—Self-contradictory premiss.

My mother is barren.

Svayambhû (स्वयंभू)—The soul identical with its own reality and nature.

Svayambhû ramana (स्वयंभूरमण)—The name of the last continent and ocean.

Syâdasti (स्यादस्ति)—From the point of view of its own subject-matter, place, time, and nature, the substance is, i e., it exists as itself.

Syâdvâda (स्याद्वाद)—The system of Jaina Logic, by which things can be explained from seven different points of view.

Syât asti avaktavya (स्यात् अस्ति अवक्तव्य)—From the standpoint of its own quaternary and at the same time from the joint quaternary of itself and the non-self, a substance is and is also unpredicable.

Syât astinâsti (स्यात् अस्तिनास्ति)—From the standpoint of the quaternary relating to itself and the non-self, a substance is and is not, if we make the statement successively.

Syât astinâsti avaktavya (स्यात् अस्ति नास्ति अवक्तव्य)—From the point of view of its own quaternary and the non-substance quaternary, and at the same time from the joint quaternary of itself and non-substance, the substance is and is not and is unpredicable.

Syât avaktavya (स्यात् अवक्तव्य)—The substance is unpredicable, if we wish to make at once statements about it from the point of view of itself and of the non-self.

Syâtnâsti (स्यात् नास्ति)—From the standpoint of non-substance quaternary, a substance is not, i.e., it is not non-substance.

Syât nâsti avaktavya (स्यात् नास्ति अवक्तव्य)—From the standpoint of the non-self quaternary and at the same time from the joint quaternary of itself and the non-self, substance is not and is also unpredicable.

Tadâkâra Sthâpanâ (तदाकार स्थापना)—Representation by a similar figure.

Taijasa vargaṇâ (तैजस वर्गणा)—The material molecules which form the electric body.

Tamaḥ prabhâ (तमः प्रभा)—The sixth stratum of the earth, in hue like darkness.

Tanmâtrâs (तन्मात्राः)—Five of the 25 categories of the Sâṅkhya School. They are evolved from Ahamkâra.

Tanuvâta (तनुवात)—The thin-air atmosphere.

Tapa (तप)—Austerities.

Tapaniya (तपनीय)—Red-hot gold.

Tapariddhi (तपऋद्धि)—Power of austerities.

Târaka (तारक)—Star; the 5th class of the stellar order of the celestial beings.

Tarka (तर्क)—Chintâ (q.v.); sometimes = to Îhâ (q.v.)

Tattva (तत्त्व)—Topic or Principle of Jainism.

Tatvajña (तत्त्वज्ञ)—A knower of the principles of Jainism.

Tatvârtha (तत्त्वार्थ)—(Tattva, that-ness, a thing as it is; thing in itself; ârtha that which is ascertained) things ascertained as they are.

Tiginchha (तिगिञ्छ)—A Lake on mountain Nisâdha.

Tikta (तिक्त)—Pungent.

Tîrthankaratva (तीर्थंकरत्वं)—Tîrthankara Body-making Karmas.

Tîrthankara is a Proclaimer of Liberation and the guide on the path to it.

Tiryagyonija (तिर्यग्योनिज)—Of Sub-human birth.

Tiryañcha (तिर्यञ्च)—Sub-human beings.

Trasa (त्रस)—Many-sensed; mobile; capable of spontaneous movements.

Trasa nâdî (त्रस नाडी)—Mobile channel. That part of the universe outside of which living beings with only one sense are found.

Trasareṇu (त्रसरेणु)—

(1) Trasareṇu = 8 urdhvareṇu. or Truti-reṇu.

1 Urdhvareṇu or Truti-reṇu = 8 sanjñâsanjñâ.

1 Sanjñâsanjñâ = 8 utasanjñâsanjñâ.

1 Utsanjñâsanjñâ = Infinite vavhârîka atoms.

(2) It is the smallest visible particle in the sun-beam and this is called the tertiary atom. It is a technical term used for the explanation of the atomic theory of the Vaisesika school.

Triloka vindusâra (त्रिलोक विन्दुसार)—The 14th Pârva of the 12th Aṅga of the Scriptures.

Tuṣita (तुषित)—The 6th class of Laukântika heavenly beings.

Tyâga (त्याग)—Renunciation.

U

Uchcha gotra (उच्च गोत्र)—High family determining Karma.

Uchchhâdana (उच्छादन)—Concealing.

Uchchhvâsa (उच्छ्वास)—Respiration.

Udadhikumara (उदधिकुमार)—The 8th class of residential order of celestial beings.

Udâharana (उदाहरण)—The proposition in which an induction is expressed; as where there is no fire, there is no smoke, as in a tank.

Udaya (उदय)—Operation of Karmas at maturity.

Udayâbhâvîkṣaya (उदयाभावीक्षय)—Destruction of Karmas without producing any effect on the soul by operation.

Udbhâvana (उद्भावन)—Proclaiming.

Uddhâra palya (उद्धारपल्य)—= Innumerable vyavahâra palyas.

Uddiṣṭa Tyâga (उद्दिष्ट त्याग)—a layman in the 11th stage Pratimâ. It has two divisions Kṣullaka having a sheet and loin-cloth only and ailaka having a loin-cloth only, next to a naked monk.

Uddiṣṭa tyâga pratimâ (उद्दिष्टत्यागप्रतिमा)—A layman refusing food specially prepared for him, this is in the 11th Pratimâ.

Udyota (उद्योत)—Light.

Ūhâ (ऊहा)—Îha (q. v.)

Ukta (उक्त)—Perception of a thing which has been described before.

Ūnodar (ऊनोदर)—eating slightly less than one's fill.

Upabhoga Antarâya (उपभोग अन्तराय)—Preventing enjoyment of non-consumable things.

Upabhoga Kṣâyika (उपभोग क्षायिक)—Infinite attainment or enjoyment of non-consumable objects due to purification caused by destruction of Karmas.

Upabhoga Paribhoganarthakya (उपभोग परिभोगार्थक्य)—keeping too many consumable and non-consumable objects.

Upabhoga Paribhoga Parimâṇa उपभोग परिभोग परिमाण—Limiting one's enjoyment of consumable and non-consumable things.

Urdhva (उर्ध्व)—Higher.

Upachâra Vinaya (उपचार विनय)—Observing proper forms of respect.

Upacharitavyavahâra (उपचरित व्यवहार)—Figurative, non-substantive practical standpoint. To mistake as one, things which are really and obviously quite separate. As to look upon one's worldly possessions as one's own self.

Upâdânakârâṇa (उपादान कारण)—=Samartha kârâṇa (q. v.)

Upâdhi (उपाधि)—Attachment to worldly objects.

Upâdhyâyâ (उपाध्याय)—Preceptor (of an order of Saints).

Upagraha (उपग्रह)—Support.

Upaghâta (उपघात)—1. Refuting the truth, knowing it to be such. 2. Possession of (a limb which causes one's own death) ; a suicidal limb, e.g., the horns of a stag, which get entangled and make the stag an easy victim of death.

Upagrahaṇa (उपग्रहण)—defects of in effective believers.

Upakarana (उपकरण)—Organ protecting environment.

Upalabdhi (उपलब्धि)—(1) Establishing an affirmative or negative proposition by a positive middle. (2) Knowing.

Upamāna (उपमान)—Comparison. It is a Pramāṇa accepted by the Nyāya and the Mīmāṃsaka schools of philosophy.

Upanaya (उपनय)—Similarity in the observation which is the basis of an induction with the observation which is the basis of the deductive conclusion. E.g., in the syllogism,

There is fire on the mountain ;

because there is smoke there ;

where there is smoke, there is fire as in the kitchen ;

So there is smoke on the mountain ;

∴ there is fire on the mountain.

Here the fourth proposition : 'so there is smoke on the mountain' is called उपनय Upanaya. The first is प्रतिज्ञा pratijñā ; the second is साधन Sādhana ; the third is उदाहरण Udāharaṇa ; and the fifth is निगमन nigamana. Note that the wording of pratijñā and nigamana is the same ; pratijñā is the postulating of the proposition to be proved, whereas nigamana is the statement that the pratijñā has been proved. Similarly, the wording of Sādhana and upanaya is the same. Sādhana is just indicating the basis of the conclusion; upanaya is the employment of this basis in the actual argument itself.

Roughly one can say that the first two propositions are preliminary or introductory. They are both repeated in the conclusion and one of the premisses respectively. The real argument lies in the last 3 propositions, which in their arrangement and logical cogency represent the major and minor premisses and the conclusion of Aristotelean or European Logic.

From another point of view, the first two propositions may be said to contain the whole argument. The pratijñā is the conclusion; and the Sādhana, the basis of it. The major premiss which contains the middle term and the subject of the conclusion is suppressed, and supposed to be known and admitted, e.g., we want to prove that there is fire on the mountain: We do so by observing smoke on it. Our syllogism is. There is fire on the mountain, because there is smoke on it. The connection between fire and smoke is unexpressed; it is supposed to be known and admitted universally. From this point of view, the third proposition Udāharaṇa is more of an induction than deduction. In this the induction that where there is smoke, there is fire, is expressed; how this is arrived at is indicated by the dṛṣṭānta half of it, as in the kitchen &c. This mention of kitchen is symbolical of all places where fire and smoke are both observed to exist as cause and effect.

This induction is sometimes further fortified and safeguarded by making a negative observation; i.e., by observing that where there is no fire, there is no smoke, as in a tank, or rather by observing that where fire is impossible, there smoke is never found.

The first two propositions are said to be sufficient for the intelligent and the knowing. But for greater explanation and exposition, the argument is spun over the 5 propositions of Jaina and Nyâya Logic.

[See Manikya Nandi's Parîkṣâ Mukha, Chapter III, Sutrâs 32 & 41.]

Upapâda (उपपाद)—Instantaneous rise, as the birth of celestial and hellish beings.

Upâsakâdhyayana (उपासकाध्ययन)—The 7th Aṅga of the Scriptures.

All Minimums are : A, D, G, J, M, P, S

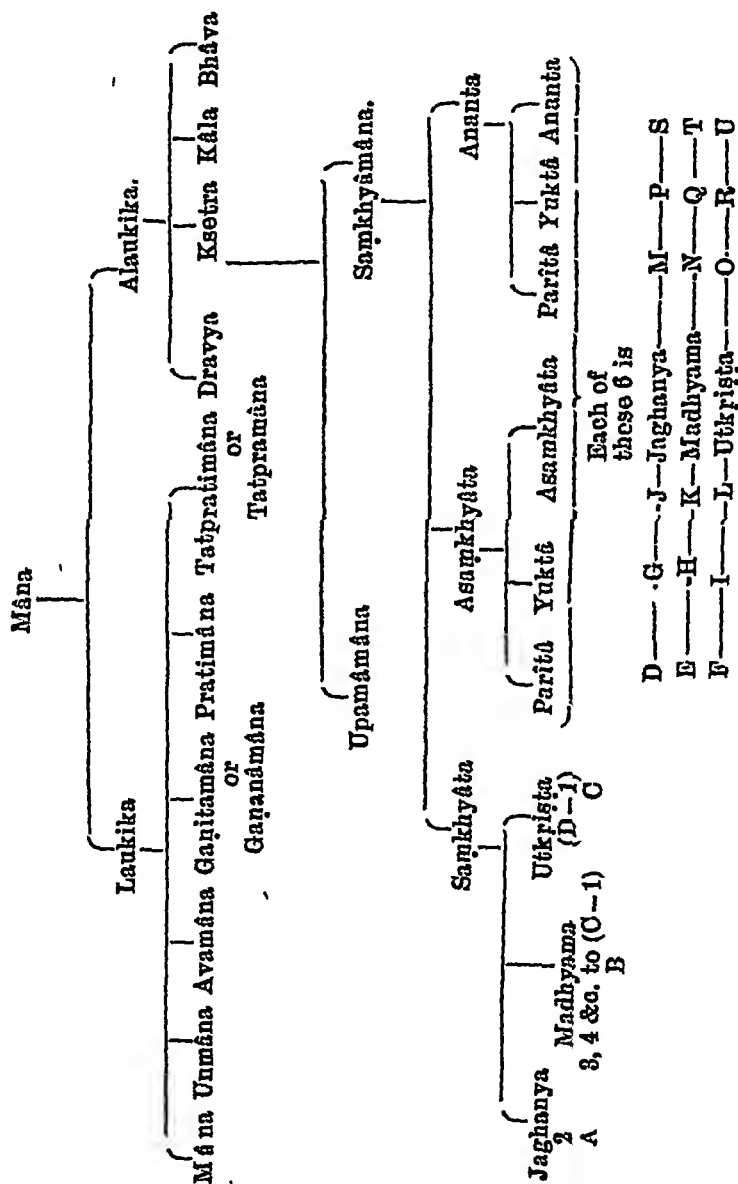

= 2, DDD, D², M, M^M, M^M. So really there are only 2 unknowns, i.e., D and M.

Jaghanya=Minimum. Paritā=Prelliminary. Saṃkhyāta=Numberable.

Madhyama=Medium. Yukta=Advanced. Asaṃkhyāta=Innumerable.

Utkriṣṭa=Maximum. Ananta=Infinite Ananta=Infinite.

was dropped. The next pit, β_2 will be 1000 Yojanas deep and with a diameter of the Continent or Ocean where the last seed from the α_2 pit was dropped. Go on till there are Z pits of the β class with ever-increasing diameter. When the last β pit i.e., β_z is exhausted, drop the last seed in γ_1 .

Now γ_1 is also conically filled. Then drop the first seed in δ .

Repeat till δ is also filled. Then the number of α , β , and γ pits will be $3Z$. The number of seeds in the last of these $3Z$ pits is the number D or Jaghanya Paritā asāṃkhyāta.

To find $G = \text{Jaghanya Yuktā Asāṃkhyāta}$.

Take D and Virlana it, or spread it into its units ; i.e., write down as many ones as there are units in D. On the top of each one, place a D (called Deya). Multiply all together. The product is D. This is equal to G. This is the number of instants (samaya) in an Āvulī or wink.

To find $M = \text{Jaghanya Paritā Ananta}$.

Take J. Treat it to the third degree of Śālākā-Virlana-Deya as below.

There are always three dispositions of the number treated. The first is called Śālākā. The number is kept in this and is reduced by one at each completion of processes in the next two dispositions. The second disposition is called Virlana. In this one is placed in as many places as there are units in the number. The third disposition is Deya. It is the number which is given to be placed on the top of every unit in the Virlana. The first Deya is always the number itself.

Let us treat 3 by this method. We place 3 as Śālākā. We place 3 ones under Virlana ; and the Deya is 3.

In the Virlana on the top of each 1 we place 3. We multiply all these threes and get $3 \times 3 \times 3 = 27$. This is the next Deya. Now we reduce the Śālākā by one.

So at the second step we have 2 as Śālākā ; 27 ones as Virlana ; and 27 as Deya. The next Deya would be 27^2 . Now we reduce the S'alākā by another one. So at the third step we have 1 as ²⁷*S'alākā*; ²⁷ones as Virāna, and ²⁷ as Deya. The next Deya or the result of

$$\left(\begin{smallmatrix} 27 \\ 27 \end{smallmatrix} \right)$$

Virāna is ⁽²⁷⁾₂₇. Now we can reduce the S'alākā by one more.

$$\left(\begin{smallmatrix} 27 \\ 27 \end{smallmatrix} \right)$$

The process is complete. The result is ⁽²⁷⁾₂₇.

Let us express it symbolically thus : ^[4]27, which means that 27 is to be written four times, once as a base, then as a power of that base, then as a power of that power and so on.

If we take the last result, i.e., ^[4]27, and treat it by the Śalākā method as we treated the three above, it would be a two-fold treatment. The result of this second treatment also being treated in the Śalākā way will give us the third degree Śalākā treatment of 3. This is technically called Śalākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana. The result of treating J like this is a kind of K. To this result add the following six :

1. The innumerable spatial units of the substance of Motion (Dharma Dravya),
2. The innumerable spatial units of the substance of Rest (Adharma Dravya).
3. The innumerable spatial units of one Soul (ek Jiva Dravya.)
4. The innumerable spatial units of the Universe—Space (Lokakasa).
5. Innumerable × innumerable spatial units, i.e., the number of non-host individual Souls (Apratiṣṭhita Pratyeka).
6. Innumerable × innumerable spatial units, i.e., the number of host individual Souls (Sapratīṣṭhita Pratyeka).

Take the total of these 7 and treat it to Śalākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana as above. The result is again a kind of K. To this add the following four :—

1. Instants of the cycle of Avasarpini and Utsarpini (the instants of 20 crore × crore Sāgaras of years).
2. Innumerable × innumerable, i.e., the number of thought-activities of the soul which determine the duration of bondage of Karmas (Sthiti-bandha Adhyavasāya-Sthāna).
3. Innumerable × innumerable, i.e., the number of degrees of passion which determine the intensity or the mild or strong fruition, of bondage of Karmas (Anubhāga-bandha-Adhyavasāya Sthāna).
4. Innumerable × innumerable, i.e., the number of the units of soul's vibratory activities (Avibhāga pratichcheda of Yoga).

Take the total of these five and treat it to Śalākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana as above. The result is equal to M.

To find $U = \text{Utkriṣṭa Anantā Ananta}$.

Take S. Treat it to Śalākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana. The result is a kind of T. To this add the following six :

1. Infinite part of all souls, i.e., the number of Liberated souls (Siddhas).
2. Infinite × above, i.e., number of common vegetable (sādhū-ṛaṇa vanaṣpati) nigoda souls (i.e. all the mundane souls except the earth, water, fire, air, and vegetable; and mobiles; i.e. Sādhārāṇa vegetable nigoda).
3. Infinite × above, i.e., number of all vegetable souls (Vanaṣpati).
4. Infinite × all souls, i.e., the number of atoms of matter (Pud-gala).
5. Infinite × infinite matter-atoms, i.e., number of instants in Practical Time (Vyavahāra Kāla.)

6. Infinite \times infinite instants in Practical Time, i.e., the number of spatial units in the non-universe space (Alokākāśa)

Take the total of these seven, and treat it to Śālākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana. The result is a kind of T. To this add the Infinite \times the Infinite which is the number of units (Avibhāga Pratichchheda of the Individuality attribute (Aguru laghu guṇa) in the substances of Motion and Rest (Dharma and Adharma Dravya).

Take the total of these two, and treat it to Śālākā-Traya-Niṣṭhāpana. The result is a kind of T.

Subtract this from the number of units (Avibhāga Pratichchheda) of perfect knowledge (Kevala Jñāna) ; and then add it to the remainder.

Thus the number of units of Perfect Knowledge is U.

This last subtraction and addition of the same is to show that even this last kind of T, soul-straining though it is, is nothing compared with U, Omniscience which is the goal and glory of Jainism, being the highest and the most Ideal condition of the Purest possible soul.

—:0:—

Note that the expression "innumerable \times innumerable," and "infinite \times infinite" is employed above, because the innumerable and the infinities are not the same. By this time it will be clear that there are a huge number of these innumerable and infinities, in the Middle kinds, included in E, H, K and in N, Q & T.

Sarva.—1, 2, 3, 4, 5,...to U. Arithmetic progression with 1 as common Difference, and 1 as first term

Sama.—2, 4, 6, 8, 10,...to U—Arithmetic progression with 2 as common difference and 2 as first term.

Viśama.—1, 3, 5, 7, 9,...to U. Arithmetic progression with 2 as common difference and one as first term.

The No.
of terms
is $\frac{1}{2}$ of
U.

Kṛiti.—1, 4, 9, 16, 25,...to U. Series in which each term is the square of the terms in Sarva. The number of Kṛiti terms= \sqrt{U} .

Âkṛiti—2, 3, 5, 6 (U-1). This is the Sarva series, omitting all the square numbers as 4, 9, 16, 25, from it. In brief it is Sarva minus Kṛiti series.

Ghana—1, 8, 27, 64, 125, 216,...to the last cubic number before U. The cube root of the last term is the number of terms in this series.

Aghana—Sarva minus Ghana. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16,...26, 28,...68, 69...124, 126, &c &c. This is Sarva series minus cubic numbers.

Kṛiti Mâtrika—1, 2, 3, &c. up to \sqrt{U} . Each term can be squared. Number of terms is \sqrt{U} .

Âkṛiti Mâtrika— $\sqrt{U}+1$, $\sqrt{U}-2$ &c. up to U. No term can be squared. Number of terms is $U-\sqrt{U}$.

Ghana Mâtrika—1, 2, 3, &c. up to the cube-root of last cubic number before U. The Number of terms=the cube root of the last term (call it $\sqrt[3]{U}$).

Aghana Mâtrika— $\sqrt[3]{U}+1$, $\sqrt[3]{U}+2$,...U. Number of terms here is $U-\sqrt[3]{U}$.

Fill it packed with h.u.'s (i.e., hair-ends of a lamb of Uttama-bhogabhūmi) level with the earth's surface. To find the number of h.u.'s, square the diameter, multiply by 10, this gives the circumference; multiply by $\frac{1}{4}$ of diameter.

In Jaina Books $\pi = \frac{19}{6}$. Thus $\sqrt{10} = \sqrt{9} + \frac{1}{2 \times \sqrt{9}} = 3\frac{1}{6} = \frac{19}{6}$.

The rule is :—To the nearest square-root add the $$\frac{\text{remainder}}{2 \times \text{square root}}, \text{E.g. } \sqrt{2} = \sqrt{1} + \frac{1}{2\sqrt{1}} = 1 + \frac{1}{2} = \frac{3}{2}.$$

$$\sqrt{10} = \sqrt{9} + \frac{1}{2\sqrt{9}} = 3 + \frac{1}{6} = \frac{19}{6}.$$

the volume of the pit is (where r=radius and h=depth), $\pi r^2 h =$ $\sqrt{10} \times (\frac{1}{2})^2 \times 1 = \frac{10}{6} \times \frac{1}{4}$ Cube yojanas = $\frac{10}{24}$ cubic yojanas.

The h.u.'s in it are $\frac{10}{24} \times (4 \times 2000 \times 2 \times 2 \times 2 \times 2 \times 6 \times 500 \times 8)^3$

= 4134526303082031777495121920000000000000000 (45 figures).

Take out one hair end (h. u.) in 100 years; when the pit is empty, you get the Vyavahāra Palya. That is the number of years in it is 413452630308203177749512192000000000000000000 (47 figures).

To reduce these years into instants (Samaya), we have

1 year = 2 ayana (six months).

1 ayana = 3 ritu (season).

1 ritu = 2 māsa (months).

1 māsa = 30 ahorātra (days and nights).

1 ahorātra = 30 muhūrta.

1 muhūrta = sankhyāta āvalī.

D

1 āvalī = Jaghanya yuktā Asankhyāta Samaya (G=D) Instants.

Uddhāra palya. Take the instants of asankhyāta crore years; multiply them by the 45 figured h.u.'s of Vyavahāra Palya. The product is the number of Samayas (instants) of Uddhāra Palya.

These multiplied by 25 crore × crore give the number of Continents and Oceans of the Middle World.

Addhā Palya. Take the instants of asankhyāta years; multiply by the instants of Uddhāra Palya. The product is the number of Samayas of Addhā Palya.

Sāgara. 10 crore \times crore Palyas of any kind make 1 Sāgaropama of the corresponding kind.

Sūchyāṅgula (linear finger). Addhā Palya being raised to the power of its number of halving (ardha chehhdas) is one Sūchyāṅgula. It is the number of spatial units in that part of space which is one Pramāṇāṅgula long and one spatial unit (pradeśa) in breadth and height.

Prataṇḍāṅgula (square finger) is the square suchyāṅgula.

Ghaṇāṅgula (cubic finger) is the cube of sūchyāṅgula.

Jagat śreni. Divide the number of halvings of one Addhā Palya by innumerable Ghaṇāṅgula raised to the power of the quotient is Jagat śreni, = 7 Rajjus.

Jagat Pratara is the square of Jagat-śreni = 49 square rajjus.
